IMPORTANT PROBLEMS MAY BE SETTLED BY MARTIN PROBE

Conduct of Democratic Affairs in This County May Hang in the Balance

POSTMASTERSHIPS INVOLVED

Donora and California Appointments May be Influenced by Result of Investigation Now Under Way at National Capital.

The postoffice department at Washington, D. C. it was learned Friday night through a press dispatch, is engaged in the investigation of the charges against Joseph W. Martin, whose name has been advanced by Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, for appointment as postmaster at Washington. Not only is it expected that upon the result of the department's finding will depend the question of Martin's appointment, but it will also decided to a certain extent the future conduct of Democratic affairs in Washington county. Also it will probably decide which faction shall rule in the Donora and California postmaster fights. If Martin is found blameless of the charges, then his faction will probably have the say on the appointments at these two points; if the charges are in any sense proven, then the other faction probably will get to name these postmasters as well as the postmasters at Canonsburg and perhaps another point in the county.

There are factional disturbances. It would seem in Democratic affairs in Washington county, the one faction being led by Martin and his cohorts and the other being the Reed-Judson-Knox combination. At any rate, this seems to be the way things are lining up. The Martin combination favors the appointment of John Condon for postmaster at Donora and the Reed-Knox-Judson people it is said are inclined to hold out for Dr. Grant Furlong. At California the selection by Martin and his friends of J. E. Coatsworth for postmaster is opposed by the other faction, which is declared to be for Charles Winfield.

In the Washington fight, it was expected that Martin's name would go to the senate before this but the progress of the matter was delayed when formal charges were filed against Palmer's choice. Just what these charges are or who makes them have not been divulged. It is stated on reasonably good authority that petty politics are behind the effort to oust Martin as a likely candidate for the postmastership.

While of course nothing has been given out by the postoffice department as to what is developing in the investigation it was hinted in the Washington news item that the result of the investigation would be to clear Martin wholly of the charges made against him. In that case it seems likely that nothing will interfere with his appointment to the postmastership.

ARE ACCUSED OF STEALING BRASS

One Man Under Arrest And Search is Being Made for Another

INFORMATION MADE FRIDAY

Luther Brown was arrested Friday and another man is being looked for charged with having stolen nearly 1,000 pounds of brass from the Charleroi mine of the Carnegie Coal company. Brown is being held for a hearing before Justice of the Peace E. E. Rice.

The charge against the men is made by C. W. Hall, superintendent of the mine. He alleges the large amount of brass was the plunder of a series of thefts of various articles during recent months.

It is believed the men had been taking the brass to a field and burying it and later removing it to a Third street point to prepare it for sale. Some of the brass was found in their rooms.

Most of the brass taken from the Charleroi mine was new, and hardly any of it had ever been used. The total amount removed within the last three months is valued at between $200 and $300 and the amount found Friday is valued at about $75.

Pennsylvania Avenue at Speers in More Danger of Obliteration in Cases of Showers.

More trouble than was at first anticipated is being experienced in clearing Pennsylvania avenue at Speers from dirt caused by recent slides. The state highway department has had men working several days, but they have not succeeded in getting the dirt all cleared away.

All that is needed now is a little rain, and the hillside is likely to let go. Then the brick road will be in worse shape than ever.

NOT GUILTY IS VEDRIS VERDICT

Coon Island Man Did Not Murder Joe Babish Last September Jury Finds

ACCUSED MAN MUCH PLEASED

Frank Vedris was declared "not guilty" of the murder of Joe Babish at Coon Island on last September 7 at a special session of court Friday night by the jury that heard the testimony in the case which had been in progress before Judge McIlvaine since Monday afternoon.

A fair crowd was present to hear the verdict. Judge McIlvaine was late in arriving and it was about 8:45 o'clock when he took his seat and the jurors filed into the box. Vedris did not display any signs of agitation as he waited to hear his fate. He chatted with his wife freely and seemed to have every confidence that he was going to be given his freedom.

A smile spread over his face and he hurried from the table of his attorneys to the jury box immediately after the foreman announced the verdict was "not guilty." He showered profuse thanks on the jurors and grasped each by the hand, his wife and friends joining in the reception.

The cross examination of Vedris the defendant was completed Friday morning. He stuck closely to his story as told on direct examination.

WORTHY MOVEMENT.

The National Congress of Mothers, whose representative in Charleroi is Miss N. L. Smith, has worthy aims and purposes, and is an organization of which the good effect should be very generally felt. The aims are given as follows:

To carry the mother-love and mother-thought into all that concerns or touches childhood in home, school, church or state; to raise the standards of home life; to develop wiser, better trained parenthood; to bring into closer relation the home and the school that parent and teacher may co-operate intelligently in the education of the child, bringing systematic earnest effort to this end through the formation of mothers' clubs and parent-teacher associations in connection with public schools and elsewhere.

To promote the establishment of kindergartens and of laws which will adequately care for neglected and dependent children; to secure such legislation as will insure that children of tender years may not be tried in ordinary courts, but that each town shall establish a juvenile court and special officers whose duty it shall be to care for the child, that it shall be rescued from, rather than confirmed in evil ways.

To work for such probationary care in individual homes rather than in institutions.

To give young people, ignorant of the proper care and training of children, opportunities to learn that which will enable them better to perform the duties of parenthood.

To promote high ideals of marriage and the maintenance of its sacredness and permanence.

To interest men and women to cooperate in the work for purer, truer homes, in the belief that to accomplish the best results, men and women must work together

To rouse the whole country to a sense of its duty and responsibility to childhood.

To surround the childhood of the world with that loving, wise care in the impressionable years of life that will develop good citizens, instead of law breakers and criminals.

The work of the Congress is civic work in its broadest and highest sence. Every man or woman who is interested in these aims is cordially invited by the congress to become a member and aid in the organized effort for higher national life, which can only be attained through the individual homes.

A STEP BACKWARD.

There is rejoicing in Reno, Nevada. The divorce law, which almost put that giddy spot on the earth's surface out of business, is about to be repealed by the legislature. More than a year ago Nevada decided to reform, and the first item that struck the eye of the legislators was the divorce law. Nevada has long been known as the while-you-wait divorce state, and particularly famed for Reno, says the Tarentum News.

The new-fangled idea didn't strike Reno favorably, but the city thought it would go along with the crowd and test the new statute, which required one year's residence in the state to break the "tie that binds," instead of the usual six months. To make a long story short, Reno was very near forced to close shop as a result of the enactment. Society ladies no longer frequented the cafes and theatres. Dashing young chaps, who wished to forget their martial woes, were not observed in the streets. Altogether Reno was fast becoming a dry and uninteresting habitat. Ergo, the perking up when lawmakers decided to discard the reform measure.

The house has already passed the repeal and it is generally accepted that the senate will take similar action.

From Nevada's anxiety to revert to the old rule one gains the impression that the divorce business was a thriving industry in that commonwealth.

The lawmakers of the state are committing the people to a step backward.

Here is a little story that was told by Congressman John H. Small, of North Carolina, the other evening when the conversation in the lobby of a Washington hotel turned to domestic felicity.

Some time ago a man was haled into a western court on a non-support charge preferred by his wife and as he approached the bar a light of recognition illuminated the face of the judge.

"It strikes me that I have seen you before," remarked the judicial one, addressing the defendant. "Aren't you the man who was married in a cage of wild lions a few years ago?"

"Yes, sir," answered the defendant, just a little sadly, "I am that same party."

"I recall the lions perfectly," returned the judge. "Rather exciting experience, wasn't it?"

"I thought so at that time, judge," was the dejected rejoinder of the defendant, "but it wouldn't be now."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The many recoveries brought about by Eckman's Alterative are attracting wide attention. Read about this case:—

22 B St., Keyser, W. Va.

"Gentlemen:—I was taken sick in November, 1907. I grew steadily worse. Had two consultations. The verdict was the fever had affected my lungs and that my case was hopeless; only gave me two months to live. My physicians had tried most all kinds of treatment and none did me any good, so he asked my husband if he objected to him trying a proprietary medicine. I began Four Alterative. I was in bed from November 20, 1908, until February 27, 1909, and was thought dying several times. Today I am healthier and stronger than ever." (Abbreviated.)

PAY AND PROMOTIONS IN OUR NAVY

Top (left), Annapolis midshipmen who rose from the ranks. Left to right, John W. Rowe, Horace S. Corbett, William W. Warlick, Harold H. Hungate, William Busk. They won their appointments in competitive examinations. Top (right), Class work, Artificers' School, Norfolk, preparing men for promotion and increased pay. Bottom, seaman gunners' class in navy yard at Washington. Section under instruction overhauling seven inch gun.

THE United States navy is the best paid navy in the world, and it presents opportunities for advancement equal to those of almost any profession. A man-o'-war's man never loses his job, even temporarily, for lack of work. He is always sure of his pay, of three substantial meals each day, of clean, healthful surroundings. His health is the primary concern of a skilful staff of physicians. In time of injury or illness he receives without cost the best medical and hospital attendance, and after thirty years of service he may retire on three-quarters of his pay, assured of a never failing income so long as he lives.

Excepting the cost of his clothing, after the first outfit, which is furnished gratis, and a deduction of 20 cents a month for the hospital fund, a man-o'-war's man's pay is all "velvet." He has no board to pay, no rent and no doctor's bills. Considering his steady work and perquisites, he is much better off than the average mechanic or clerk contending with losses through ill health, strikes, weather and business depressions.

A recruit can readily see the position and salary he may earn by earnest and intelligent effort. From the time he enters the training station he receives useful instruction and encouragement. His advance can be measured only by his diligence, behavior and ability, for opportunities extend over a field offered by no other service. Seamen are required to steer, man the boats, the guns and turrets and do the general work of the ship outside of the engine room; clerks, stenographers and bookkeepers to handle records and accounts; nurses, stewards and cooks; electricians, machinists, plumbers, painters, ship fitters, coppersmiths and blacksmiths and boilermakers to keep ships in repair; radio operators, firemen, torpedo men to handle torpedoes.

The special service branches embrace yeomen (clerks), nurses, musicians and cooks. In the seaman branch we find the men most intimately identified with the navigation and fighting of the ship, as seamen, gunners, torpedo men, quartermasters and boatswains, and in the artificer branch the tradesmen of the navy, machinists, electricians, carpenters, coppersmiths, painters, etc. The following table gives their various ratings of each branch and the respective rates of pay:

| | |
|---|---|
| SEAMAN BRANCH. | |
| Apprentice seamen | $17.60 |
| Ordinary seamen | 20.50 |
| Seamen | 24.40 |
| Petty officers, third class | 33.00 |
| Petty officers, second class | 38.50 |
| Petty officers, first class | 44.00 and 55.00 |
| Chief petty officers | 55.00 to 77.00 |
| ARTIFICER BRANCH. | |
| Coalpassers | $24.20 |
| Shipwrights | 27.50 |
| Firemen, first class | 38.50 |
| Petty officers, third class | 33.00 |
| Petty officers, second class | 38.50 to 44.00 |
| Petty officers, first class | 44.00 to 71.50 |
| Chief petty officers | 55.00 to 77.00 |
| SPECIAL BRANCH. | |
| Landsmen | $17.60 |
| Seamen, second class | 22.00 and $22.00 |
| Seamen, first class | 26.50 |
| Petty officers, third class | 33.00 |
| Petty officers, second class | 38.50 |
| Petty officers, first class | 22.00 and 44.00 |
| Chief petty officers | 77.00 to 77.00 |

Attractive as these inducements are, they by no means limit the advantages offered by the navy. Uncle Sam knows the value of experienced men, so when an honorably discharged man who is a United States citizen enlists the second time his pay is increased $5.50 a month and $3.30 a month more for each subsequent re-enlistment. In addition, he will get four months' pay and $1.50 a month if he re-enlists within four months. Second enlistment men have an opportunity to attend the professional schools maintained by the navy, courses at which facilitate promotion and increased pay. Men of exceptional skill in handling the guns receive extra compensation of from $2 to $10 a month, depending on the size of the gun. Divers and men in the submarine service are rewarded for the risks they assume with additional pay, and those detailed for other duties, such as ship's tailors, certain coxswains and mail clerks, have an income additional to the pay of their ratings.

Any disabled person who has served as an enlisted man in the navy for ten years and has not been discharged for misconduct may apply for aid from the surplus income of the naval pension fund, which may be granted upon the recommendation of a board of not less than three naval officers in "suitable amount," to be approved by the secretary of the navy.

After twenty years of service any enlisted man disabled from sea service by reason of age or infirmity and who has not been discharged for misconduct shall, if he so elects, be entitled to a pension equal to half pay and be admitted into the Naval home, Philadelphia, Pa.

Any enlisted person in the navy who has served thirty years may be placed on the retired list if he so desires. All service, whether in the navy, marine corps or army, is credited. On retirement he is allowed three-quarters of the pay he was receiving when retired and in addition thereto allowances amounting to $15.75 a month for rations, quarters, fuel and light.

Promotion to the highest ranks is open to the enlisted man. As an American citizen he may be nominated for admission to the United States Naval academy at Annapolis by his congressman or senators, who have certain nominations in their giving. Last year at the earnest solicitation of Secretary Daniels congress authorized the secretary of the navy to appoint fifteen enlisted men to Annapolis each year. They must win the nomination in a competitive examination and must have completed one year's service with honor and be under twenty years of age. Enlisted men with good records, who are under twenty-six years of age, may also participate in examinations for the pay corps, appointments to which are now limited to them, and upon qualifying they will be commissioned assistant paymasters.

Yet another door is open to those who have good records and ability, but who have been unable to advance by the channels mentioned. They may go up through the ranks. Men who have served continuously and reach the grade of chief or first class petty officer are eligible for appointment as warrant officers, with pay of from $1,500 to $2,400 a year. Warrant officers are boatswains, gunners, carpenters, machinists and pharmacists. To be eligible for this appointment seven years' service at sea, with average efficiency of not less than 85 per cent, is necessary, and candidates must be under thirty-five. Warrant officers after serving four years in this grade are promoted to chief warrant officers, and at the age of sixty-two they are retired on three-quarters pay.

Every year twelve warrant officers—boatswains, gunners and machinists—who are under thirty-five and have completed four years' service in the grade may become ensigns upon qualifying in a competitive examination. It will be seen it is possible for enlisted men to become commissioned line officers without attending Annapolis at all.

A close inspection of the foregoing account will reveal the fact that it is now possible for a lad to enter the navy at the age of seventeen on the lowest rung of the ladder and in consequence of promotions due to diligence, good conduct and ability retire as a chief petty officer at the age of forty-seven, when he is still capable of entering profitable employment in civil life, on a pay, including all allowances, of $100 or more a month. This, it is needless to say, is not equaled by any industrial institution in the country.

This article is intended to inform young men of the opportunities offered by service in the navy. The bureau of navigation, Washington, and the navy recruiting office, Indianapolis, Ind., will be pleased to furnish any additional information desired. A man's success in the navy can be measured only by the stuff that is in him. Diligent attention to duty will receive its reward. As in every field of endeavor, the man is the architect of his career.

MRS. WINN'S ADVICE TO WOMEN

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be Restored to Health.

Kansas City, Mo.—"The doctors told me I would never be a mother. Every month the pains were so bad that I could not bear my weight on one foot. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and had not finished the first bottle when I felt greatly relieved and I took it until it made me sound and well, and I now have two fine baby girls. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for what it has done for me. I always speak a word in favor of your medicine to other women who suffer when I have an opportunity."—Mrs. H. T. WINN, 2225 Freemont Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Read What Another Woman says:

Cumming, Ga.—"I tell some suffering woman every day of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for me. I could not eat or sleep, had a bad stomach and was in misery all the time. I could not do my housework or walk any distance without suffering great pain. I tried doctors' medicines and different patent medicines but failed to get relief. My husband brought home your Vegetable Compound and in two weeks I could eat anything, could sleep like a healthy baby, and walk a long distance without feeling tired. I can highly recommend your Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did, and you are at liberty to use this letter."—Mrs. CHARLIE BAGLEY, R. 3, Cumming, Ga.

AMONG THE THEATRES

LYRIC—CHARLEROI.

Francis X. Bushman was a popular star at the Lyric this week, being presented in two of the leading features shown there. On Monday the film in which he starred was "One Wonderful Night," produced in four fine reels. The story was vividly told. On Wednesday night Bushman was shown in a two reel Essenay "Every Inch a King," which like "One Wonderful Night," was a spectacular production. On Wednesday night also a Hearst-Selig picture was shown, and the Thursday program was featured by a war picture from Europe. "For the Love of a Widow" was a good Lubin picture produced early in the week. A one reel Essanay film shown Tuesday night was "Swedish Suicide" a picture of an unusual character, and another that proved a feature was a one reel Biograph, "Their Soldier Boy."

STAR—CHARLEROI.

"Europe at War," illustrated by special slides and with Lieut. Gottfied Rodriguez, of the Dutch army lecturing was a feature two days this week at the Star theatre. Lieutenant Rodriguez told details of the methods of fighting abroad as he knew them, and splendid illustration of his talk were given. There were other features of the week that were good but probably this was the best, and drew the biggest crowds. "Lena Rivers" with Beulah Poynter staring, will be a feature later. "The Lust of the Red Man," was a featuring drama of Friday. On Monday night will be produced "Northern Lights," the film being one of the first received here from the Life Photo Play Film corporation, a new concern. "A Princess of Bagdad" is a feature coming next Tuesday.

PALACE—CHARLEROI.

Attractions at the Palace theatre this week were all headliners. On Monday "In the Shadows," a special Alliance number was the attraction. This was a five-part picture of love and adventure in the lives of two college chums. The vaudeville program was made up of two comedy numbers and a singing and dancing act. Grover and Swisher, black face comedians are exceptionally good and George C. Wheeler as a musical tramp is also good. Perry and Richards entertain with the latest song hits, and sensational dancing. One of the good motion pictures of the week was "Dear Old Girl" with Frances X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne in the leading roles. The Alliance picture for Monday is "The Chocolate Soldier" a reproduction of the play by the same name.

COYLE—CHARLEROI.

Leading features were numbers at the Coyle theatre this week. The Paramount pictures remain in as much favor as ever, two excellent numbers of the program, "Sign of the Cross," and "Cameo Kirby," being presented this week. "The Sign of the Cross" was an interesting and instructive narrative depicting the trials of the early Christian martyrs at the hands of the Roman kings. The settings were all extravagant displays of beauty! Impressive scenes showed the difference in the lives of the poor christians and the luxury in which the wicked kings lived. On Thursday, "Cameo Kirby' 'a fascinating dramatic romance of the south was shown. In this picture Dustin Farnum enacted the title role. Many historic and picturesque places were pictured, which made the story effective. A number of good comedy pictures were shown.

ALVIN—PITTSBURG.

The first play of "America outside America" to ring true and strike a note of deep and lasting philosophy is Richard Walton Tully's "The Bird of Paradise," which Oliver Morosco is to present for a return engagement of one week at the Alvin Theatre commencing Monday evening, February 15. "The Bird of Paradise" is a story of modern Hawaii, and, in brief, might be termed a splendid satire on the futility of attempting to reverse the anti-civilization of 10,000 years in a score of years, or turn back the hot surf of the indolent tropics with the icy currents of the north.

The love stories of Paul Wilson, the American in the tropics, and Luana, the beautiful Pele girl; and, upon the other hand, of beachcomber Dean and the resolute American, Diana, are absolute vital humanities—worthy any dramatist in Europe today. Tuliy has told his story with unflagging interest. From the time the lovely, half nude Luana drops her melting eyes upon the handsome young American; from the time the American girl sees the shabby, shambling, South Sea derelict in his bamboo jungle by the coral-bound wavelets, there is ruching action, pulsing emotion, genuine throbbing humanity.
